PUBLIC WORKS UPDATE

Public Works is excited to announce two vehicle additions to the department. The Jet truck helps to maintain the sewer collection system throughout the city. It also helps to keep the sewer lift stations clean, eliminate odors, and maintains the storm and land drains.

You may have already seen the new street sweeper around the city! This will assist us in keeping the streets and gutters clean. The Street Sweeper is expected to be used a couple of times a week, depending on weather.

SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

The Utah County Sheriff's Department - Vineyard Division now has a Facebook page! Follow them here to see regular updates and news!

With the colder weather and it getting darker earlier, be mindful of persons or vehicles that are suspicious or do not belong in the neighborhood. Please immediately report any suspicious activity to the Utah County Sheriff's Office at 801-794-3970.

SNOW REMOVAL AND STREET PARKING

In order to accommodate snow removal and street safety, there will be no street parking allowed this season whenever snow is present. Please plan accordingly as violators vehicles will be towed at the owners expense.

VINEYARD HERITAGE COMMISSION CORNER

Now that the start of the school year is just a memory, and all of the hustle and bustle surrounding getting our kids ready for school, has somewhat passed, it would be good to reflect on what school was like in Vineyard over a hundred years ago. The first building to be called the Vineyard school was built by Neils Larsen in 1883, a one-room lumber building named the Little Blue Schoolhouse. So many children crowded into the school that the large room had to be partitioned off to make two smaller rooms, each one heated with coal stoves and lighted with kerosene lamps. A potbellied stove with a coal bucket and a pile of wood sat in each room. In good years there were four teachers (who were usually paid in potatoes, flour, chickens, lumber or other tangible goods), each teaching two grades. Students first sat on hand-crafted wooden benches, then replaced with double desks, where two people would sit together. The teacher (if she was lucky) had a chair and a wooden desk. School was called to order each day by ringing a big, hand-held bell. One of the teachers' favorite "teaching" tools was a three-foot ruler, made of solid hickory or oak, usually applied to help with the educational process as it was wielded freely on the hand or head of the "learning student". The drinking "fountain" was an old brass bucket filled with fresh water each day, from a neighbor's well. Each student was given a rock slate for a writing tablet and when it was time to wipe the slate clean a little sputum was used. The toilet facilities consisted of two small "out buildings," which, in all appearances looked very much alike and were distinguished only by simple signs on the doors "boys" and "girls". The famous Sears and Montgomery Ward catalogs, hung on a nail in the corner, and was freely "read" (used) by one and all. Oh, how times have changed, and how grateful we are that we have all enjoyed receiving our educations through changing times and circumstances.
